/ about me

I've spent 12 amazing years translating my client's briefs and ideas into reality, travelling and working through the UK, Northern-Europe and the USA.

I work across a variety of disciplines, both digital and analog; and in 2022 began further training to add additional front & back-end development skills to my toolkit.

My design influences vary by project, with common sources of creative inspiration being: modern & historic pop-culture, early C20th art movements (Expressionism, Symbolism etc.), Folk/Naive-Art and Industrial-Design.

I love a challenge, and am ready for the next one.

07 Bauhaus x Moorhouse

Licensed Commission

I was honoured to work with a local Interior-Design agency, to produce a series of 8 illustrations that were inspired by the colours and forms of the 1920/30s Bauhaus movement.

Mood-boards were provided to inspire the design, and lead the colour schemes of each piece.

With specific colour matching provided, for various paints, papers and textiles used by the client.

Self-Branding

Q4 2022 I committed to rebranding and updating my skillset as a digital-designer, expanding into advanced web, and software development.

My focus was to create a bold, graphic and modern brand identity. Inspired by the minimalism of German publisher "Reclam".

11 Ellis & Killpatrick Luxottica

A chain of high-end Opticians and sunglass retailers in the South West.

E&K were expanding, opening a branch opposite Harvey Nichols in Bristol's new Cabot Circus development. They wanted to present themselves as high-end, exclusive fashion retailers.

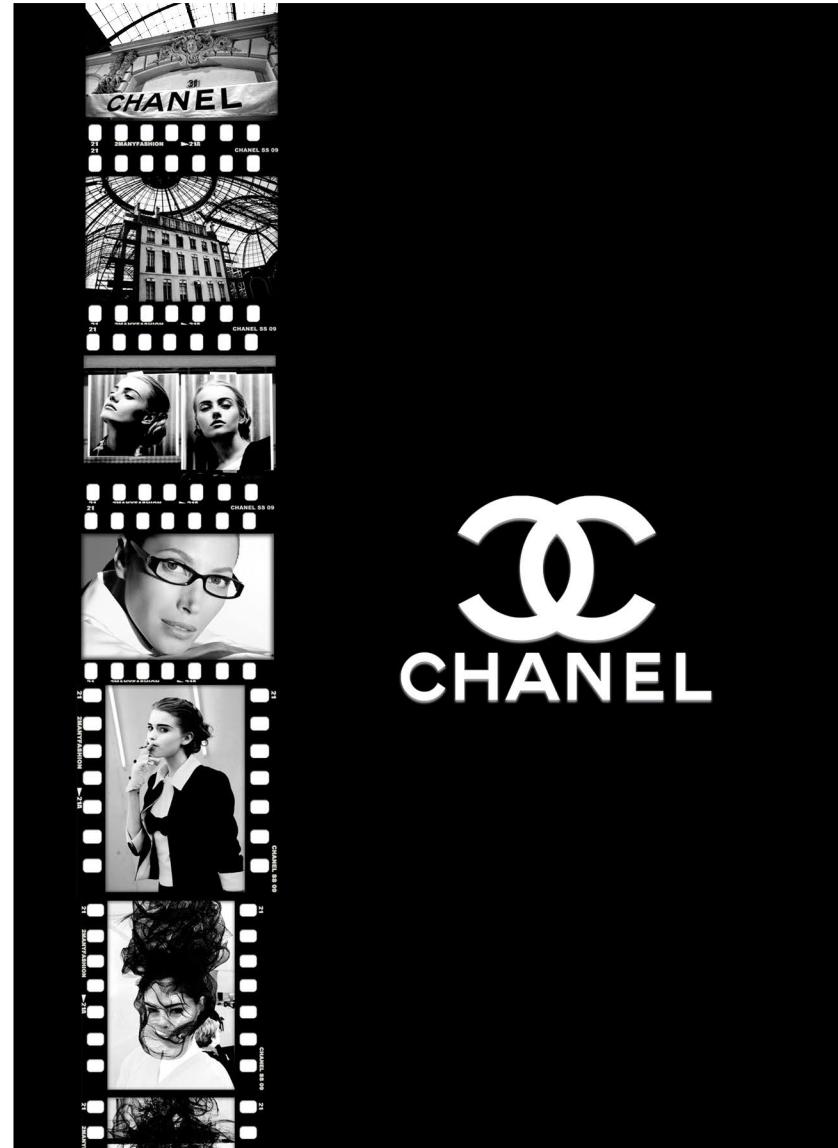

I formed an excellent long-term relationship with Luxottica (the manufacturer and licence-holder for Chanel, Prada, Oakley etc), allowing me to produce custom media for E&K, within their very strict branding guidelines.

13 Newport Jazz Festival (BridgeFest, Newport RI)

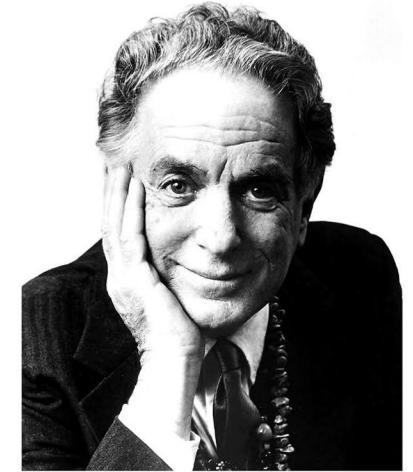

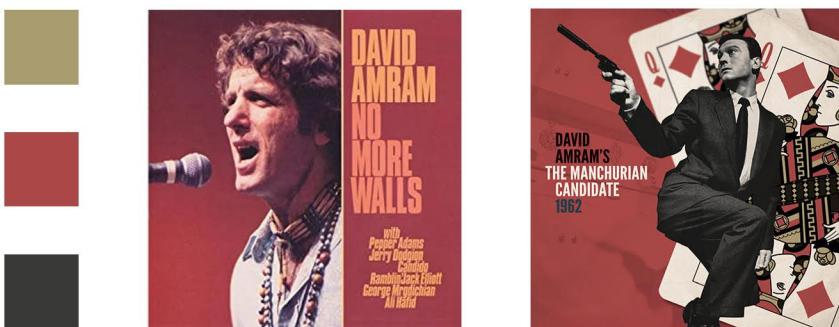

BridgeFest is an annual Jazz Festival held on the Island of Newport in Rhode Island, USA. Attracting a very high calibre of musical talent, and legacy artists.

I had the pleasure of working with the event organiser to produce a series of adverts and associated media, for 3 shows held during the festival.

15 Beaux Arts, London

Website Redesign

A Cork Street commercial Art Gallery, in the heart of Mayfair, London. Specialising in legendary British Artists, such as Elizabeth Frink and Henry Moore.

A huge undertaking; organizing, cataloguing and building pages for over 1000 images.

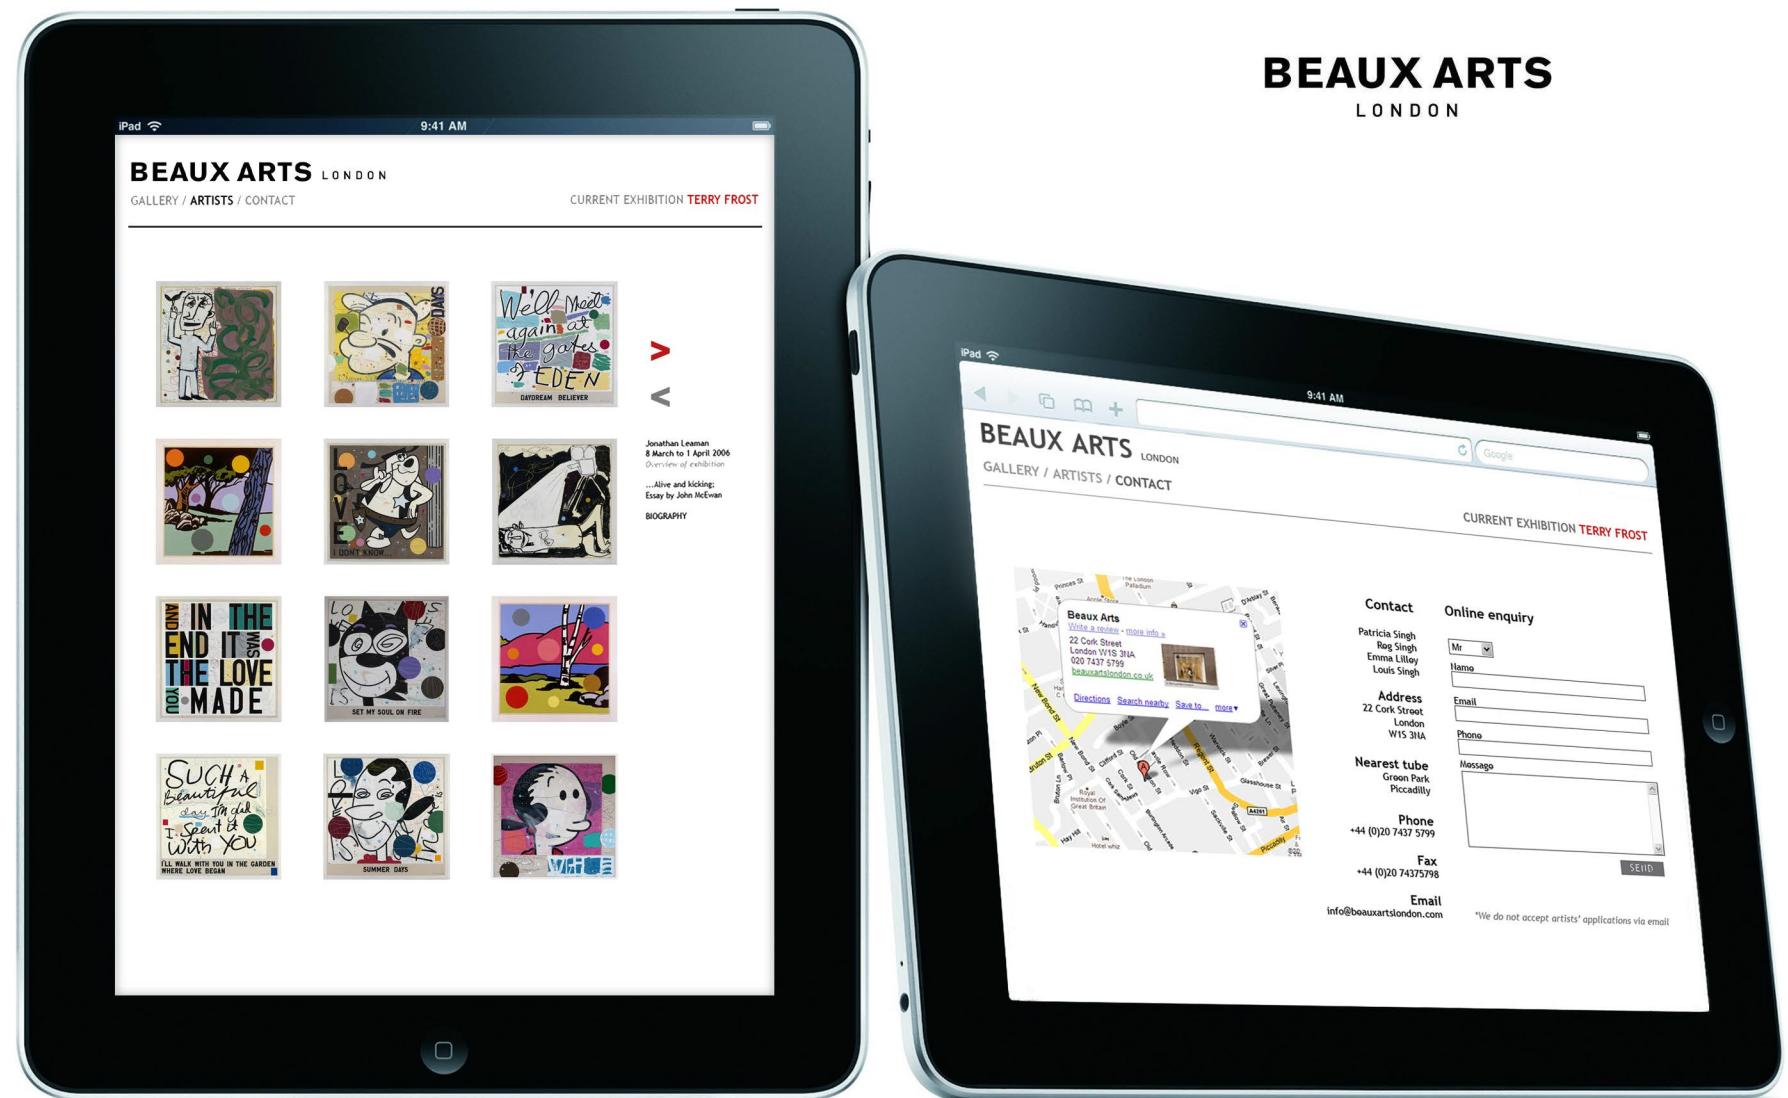

- Web Designer
- Photo Editor

The Gallery director wanted to be able to maintain and add to the website independently once it had been made live.*

Which required writing extensive documentation for the site's structure, a wide variety of templates, and providing a training-course upon project completion.

It also posed some greater challenges; developing a site with minimal complexity, and with only basic HTML possible.

16 CMYK

Graphic Design & Print Agency

A Bath Spa University graduate run media agency, providing; digital-media and print services to current students.

A brand was needed that didn't rely on specific fonts or hex-code colour choices. Students wanted to be able to freely interpret the "umbrella-branding" to reflect their individual style.

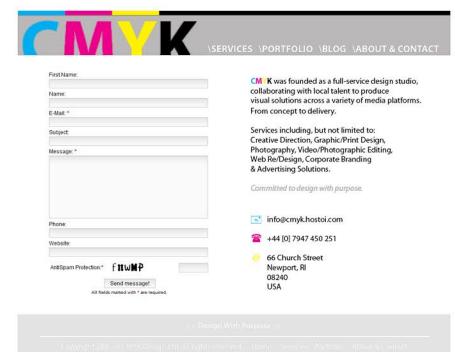

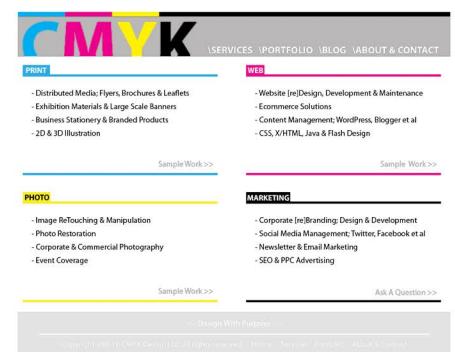

CMYK was chosen, and a large reference library of branding examples generated for distribution and use.
